CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

2nd International Conference on Decision Making in Medicine and Law: Opportunities and pitfalls of information technologies (DMM&L 2024)

University of Minho, Braga, Portugal

November 7–8, 2024.
https://raise.uniroma1.it/dmm&l/2024

The new International Conference on Decision Making in Medicine and Law aims at becoming a new established meeting point for the exchange of research experience on all aspects of decision making in medicine and law, with a special emphasis on the implications of the use of information technologies, specifically Artificial Intelligence.

Topics of interest
Topics of interest are as follows (the list is not exhaustive):
- Artificial intelligence (AI) applications in medicine and law
- Decision-making in forensic psychiatric assessment
- The role of neuroscience in legal proceedings
- Multidisciplinary perspectives in forensic evaluations
- Ethical aspects linked to the use of AI in the forensic field
- AI applications in prediction of aggression and violence
- AI and its implications in guilt, punishment, and responsibility
- AI-based systems to support personal injury compensation.

Submission types
The following types of submissions are solicited:
1. Abstracts of oral presentations
2. Abstracts to be presented in the poster session
3. Proposals of thematic sessions, including the abstracts of 4–5 oral presentations on a related topic. Those who organize one or more accepted sessions will be added to the Scientific Programme Committee.

Journal article collection
- After the conference, authors will be invited to submit a full article on the topics of their presentation for possible publication in an article collection to appear in Elsevier International Journal of Law and Psychiatry. Prospective authors will be given details after the conference.

Conference chairs
- Giovanna Parmigianni, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy

- Sónia Moreira, Law School of the University of Minho

- Gerben Meynen, Utrecht University, The Netherlands Vrije University, Amsterdam, The Netherlands